WHY THIS DEVELOPMENT JOURNEY?

This journey combines workshops, coaching and peer learning together to ensure a sustainable change in behaviour. For leaders to reach their full potential they must not only understand what needs to be done differently, but how to actually do it. The workshops are highly experiential allowing the leaders to learn through experience, and the coaching supports their ongoing development as they implement the learning. The journey is led by a passionate master facilitator and executive coach, who has many years of corporate experience across 4 continents. She is also qualified in many behavioural assessments, allowing for deep understanding of each individual and their development needs. The journey is relevant, practical, engaging and a transformational experience.
